HUGE PARADE IN NEW YORK FOR PREPAREDNESS

Greatest Civilian Pageant in World's History Will Not Terminate Until Late Tonight.

20,000 WOMEN ARE ENROLLED FOR MARCH

Monster Patriotic Demonstration Arranged to Enforce Need For More Adequate Military Defenses.

International News Service.
NEW YORK, May 13.—Registering a mighty protest against the nation's inadequate preparedness to protect itself, the greatest civilian parade in the history of the world marched through the streets of New York today. Not since the days of the Spanish-American war has New York given itself up to such a display of patriotism as marked the great parade. The columns marched under lowering skies during the forenoon, facing chill breezes that became almost gales in the canyons formed by the towering skyscrapers. The city's citizens failed to cool their enthusiasm or that of the tens of thousands that lined the route. The great demonstration will not terminate until 10:30 o'clock tonight. By that time 145,000 persons in five grand divisions will have passed the reviewing stand at Madison square. If they could have been admitted to the marching line 75,000 others would have enlisted for the parade, but their applications had to be turned down.

20,000 Women in Line.

Twenty thousand women enrolled for the march, but the start of their division was put off until late afternoon, the early part of the parade being composed exclusively of men. The marchers passed through streets whose buildings were masses of red, white and blue bunting and American flags. They paraded to the music of nearly 200 bands.

It was essentially a civilian demonstration. The only uniformed men in the river of humanity that flowed through the thoroughfares were 1,000 members of the New York national guard. All the others were "plain" everyday professional men and women and workers in all branches of trade.

Without any action by the legislature or board of aldermen the city gave itself up to a patriotic holiday. Most of the business houses whose employees participated were closed all day or arranged to shut down at noon.

While the parade was necessarily local in character, military bands came from Connecticut, New Jersey and Pennsylvania to aid in the demonstration. As evidence that the interest taken in the demonstration was national in scope 100,000 out of town visitors came here to view the parade.

Two Million To See Parade.

The first movement in the great parade started at the city hall when Mayor Mitchell, Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood and Rear Admiral Nathaniel Usher, the reviewing officers, left for the reviewing stand. By that time the streets were already lined with men, women and children and it was estimated that by the time the last of the marchers had traversed the route from Bowling Green at the south end of the city, to 59th st., fully 2,000,000 persons would have seen the parade.

Municipal employees were in the vanguard. Nearly 19,000 of them had volunteered to march, but the number had to be cut down to 3,000. All policemen of Greater New York were pressed into service along the line of march. Every station was stripped of its reserves.

A counter attack by two Russian battalions failed, and the enemy lost heavily."

Gillen Sent to Penal Farm and Given $100 Fine

Frank "Kanush" Gillen was sentenced Saturday morning to spend six months at the penal farm, to which was added $100 fine. Gillen pleaded guilty to receiving stolen goods in connection with the robbery of the John Baumgartner store on Lincoln way W., in 1913.

Gillen created a furore in police circles here this week by his voluntary surrender to the police. He was wanted by the authorities in connection with the murder of Henry Muesel and Frank Chrobot. He was held here on the receiving stolen goods charge and grilled by Chief of Detectives Kuespert as to his knowledge of the cold blooded murder. According to Kuespert, Gillen did not reveal anything.

The articles which Gillen pleaded guilty to receiving as stolen goods from the Baumgartner store were: 44 pocket knives, one pair of horse clippers, two pair of pliers, two pair shears, three wrenches, two razors, etc. The value of the articles was fixed at $20.

When arraigned in police court Saturday morning he looked far from being the dangerous gunman which reputation he holds in police circles. Police authorities are of the belief that Gillen will serve out the sentence of Judge Warner, returning next fall to make his home in the city. According to the officers, Gillen wants to settle down and lead the simple life.

BRITISH CENSORSHIP UPSETS U. S. TRADE

Fail to Return Mail Bags to Vessels and Larger Car-goes Are Tied Up.

International News Service.
SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—Interference with the United States mails by British censors at Hong Kong and other far eastern ports has resulted today in a chaotic state of affairs along San Francisco's water front.

Two vessels—the Java-Pacific steamer Tjimonok and Tikem-bang—which ordinarily come into port here laden with mails, have arrived. The former brought one sack; the latter none. British censors at Hong Kong removed the mails and failed to return them in time for sailing.

As a result no bills of lading have been received, and cargoes from the vessels are piled high on the piers. Consignees refuse to remove their goods without the bills.

Protests will be made to the state department at Washington.

IRISH BITTERNESS KEEPS SPREADING

Stern Measures of British in Punishing Sinn Feiners Causing Resentment.

International News Service.
LONDON, May 13.—A review of the British troops in Dublin was held today by Gen. Sir John Maxwell, the commander-in-chief in Ireland.

The soldiers were also reviewed by Premier Asquith, who went to the Irish capital to confer with officials and secure at first hand information relative to the responsibility for the uprising.

With 16 leaders of the rebels executed, belief was expressed today that there would be no more death sentences carried out. It is also likely that a proclamation will be issued within the next few days restoring civil law in Ireland, there is considerable high feeling prevailing in southern and western Irish counties over the stern measures sanctioned by the British government and it will probably be some time before this is eliminated entirely, but members of the government strongly defend the drastic policy which was put into effect.

Those who have paid with their lives for the part they took in the uprising are: P. H. Pearce, the "provisional president of the republic"; James Connolly, commander-in-chief of the Sinn Fein army; John McDermott, Thomas J. Clarke, John J. MacDonagh, Joseph Plunkett, Eamon Ceannt, Edward Daly, Michael O'Hanrahan, William Pearce, Mal. John McBride, Cornelius Culbert, J. J. Houston, Michael Mallon, Thomas Kent and Sheehy Skeffington.

Those executed included all the seven men who signed the proclamation declaring Ireland free and independent of British rule.

Powerful liberal papers, including the Manchester Guardian, criticize the government for the widespread executions in Ireland. Especially severe was the censure for allowing Connolly to be put to death. Connolly was wounded in the fighting in the streets of Dublin and he bore one of his legs in splints as he faced the firing squad.

Mutilated Body Taken From River

CHICAGO, May 13.—The Desplaines river, long a harbor of ghastly mysteries, today yielded up one of the most grotesque murders in Chicago police annals.

The body of a man, evidently wealthy and refined, was taken from the water. There were two gunshot wounds below the heart. The throat was cut, the nose smashed with a heavy instrument, the face crisscrossed with knife hackings. There were 12 stab wounds in the abdomen, made with a double-edged dagger. The whole body had been hacked and beaten and finally a clumsy effort had been made to embalm it. All identifying marks on the clothing had been ripped off. In the mouth was a gag of black silk; the murdered man's cravat of excellent quality.

INDIANS QUIT FAITH FOR "WHITE FATHER"

Sec'y Lane Makes 186 Sioux Tribesmen Citizens in Impressive Ceremony.

International News Service.
YANKTON, S. D., May 13.—Amid impressive ceremonies, 186 Sioux Indians today forsook the faith of their fathers and became American citizens. Sec'y of the Interior Lane and his staff, on behalf of Pres't Wilson, conducted the services.

Each Indian upon being called his white name, was handed an arrow, and directed to shoot it, indicating his abandonment of the primal mode of living. He then grasped the handle of a plow—the white man's burden. Sec'y Lane then presented each with a leather purse, a small flag and a golden badge with the inscription "An American Citizen" upon it. A great crowd viewed the ceremonies.

LANSING'S STATEMENT CAUSES UNEASINESS IN GERMAN EMPIRE

International News Service.
AMSTERDAM, May 13.—Considerable uneasiness has been caused throughout Germany by the statement of Sec'y Lansing relative to Anglo-American relations. The Lansing statement, which dealt with Germany's demand that the United States compel England to lighten her blockade, was issued after Pres't Wilson forwarded his note accepting the submarine concessions of Germany. Parts of the statements were regarded as obscure and the Vossische Zeitung applied to James W. Gerard, the United States ambassador to Berlin, for an official interpretation.

Mr. Gerard in reply stated that the allusion to a treaty evidently referred to an arbitration treaty, which the United States concluded in 1914 with 21 nations, including Great Britain.

The Cologne Gazette expressed bitter disappointment that America was disposed to await the end of the war before pressing England for certain explanations.

VICE CHANCELLOR OF GERMANY QUILTS

Minister's Retirement Attributed to Ill Health—Complain of Food Situation.

International News Service.
BERLIN, May 13.—Dr. Clemens Delbrueck, vice chancellor and minister of the interior, has resigned on account of ill health. He is stated to be suffering from diabetes.

It is recalled that when Field Marshall von Moltke was succeeded by Gen. von Falkenhayn as head of the German general staff, his retirement was attributed to ill health.

Dr. Delbrueck has had charge of the food situation in Germany since the war began and there have been many complaints. They refer to his failure to furnish adequate supplies. Lack of potatoes has caused much dissatisfaction with his administration. Germany could produce enough potatoes to remedy in large part the shortage of meats and grains, but it is alleged no effective measures were taken to force the large land owners to their share in raising a large potato crop.

DRASTIC CURES FOR TIE-UP OF RAIL TRAFFIC

Commerce Commission Working on Most Complete Re-adjustment of Rates Ever Devised.

WILL ALLOW INCREASE IN DEMURRAGE RATES

Rise in Storage Cost Expected to Expedite Removal of Freight in Congested District.

International News Service.
WASHINGTON, May 13.—Drastic remedies for the manifold ailments of the American transportation system, induced by the European war, are in process of preparation by the interstate commerce commission and the next few months will see the most complete readjustment of rate structures in every part of the United States which has taken place since the commission was established.

"We are working day and night on the problems before us," said Chairman B. H. Meyer of the commission today, "but there is no letting up in sight."

The new transportation situations presented by the war affects railroads and shippers so acutely that the remedies to be applied by the commission will be comparable to surgical operations—the ultimate good cannot be accomplished without considerable pain.

Allow Increased Storage Charge.

Thus, to cure the condition of congestion of freight cars at eastern terminals, the commission is permitting railroads materially to increase charge for storage and demurrage. This means that shippers will not be permitted to allow their goods to remain in eastern seaport warehouses or in cars on sidings and in yards without paying increased rental charges for the space occupied. The commission feels this will expedite movement of goods, but shippers of the west are bitterly protesting that they are being made to bear a burden unfairly placed upon them. But this remedy, the commission believes, also will cure the western car shortage, doing great ultimate good.

Shippers are protesting against advanced rates on war products, but the commission is preparing to grant several increases on this sort of goods, believing that profits will be fairly distributed because of the high prices being received by manufacturers. Also labor generally is going up, and the railroads must have funds with which to pay the men.

Change Main-Traveled Routes.

One of the greatest transportation revolutions now in process is the changing of the great traveled routes of rail commerce. So congested are the ports of New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore that they cannot squeeze through the vast amount of goods offered for export at those gateways so there are now pending before the commission propositions of railroads to put

The French war office in its official communique today stated that the Germans have again concentrated their infantry assaults on the east side of the Meuse.

Two assaults with infantry were delivered on the front northeast of Verdun. One was directed against the French positions in the region of Douaumont, which was repulsed; the other was launched in the section of Thiaumont farm. ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE SEEKS ENDORSEMENT

Asks Methodists to Support Submission of Amendment to States.

International News Service.
SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., May 13.—William H. Anderson, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league of New York, who is attending the Methodist Episcopal church general conference here, today defined the program of the organization he represents as regards contemplated endorsement of its work.

"The Anti-Saloon league seeks only one thing from this general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church," he said. "It seeks such endorsement as will enable it to work most effectively as the agency of all churches and other temperance forces regardless of denomination. The Methodist Episcopal church is the largest Protestant denomination and the most aggressive church in this country on the liquor question. It constitutes a large proportion of the constituency of the Anti-Saloon league."

"The league expects a clear-cut endorsement of the proposition for the submission of a national amendment to the states, which it is pushing all over the country, and also the endorsement of kindred propositions such as pending the ratification of this amendment, the prohibition of congressional enactment of the sale of liquor into territory under the jurisdiction of congress. It expects an endorsement of the proposition to deny the use of the United States mail for all liquor advertising material."

BANDIT CHIEF NOW HAS FORCE OF 1,100 MEN

Pershing Inclined to Take All Reports With "Grain of Salt"—Will Not Redistribute Troops.

WASHINGTON WAITS ON SCOTT'S ARRIVAL

No Action or Change in Plan is Contemplated Until After Complete Oral Report is Received.

International News Service.
FIELD HEADQUARTERS PUNITIVE EXPEDITION, NEAR NAMIQUIPA, Mexico, May 12.—(via radio to Columbus, N. M., May 13.)—Reports reached Gen. Pershing here tonight that Villa, with 1,100 men, is at a ranch near Corralitos. His command, according to reports, is made up of Sonora bandits, with a sprinkling of followers which he has succeeded in gathering under his banner during his flight before American pursuers.

Gen. Pershing was not inclined to place much credence in the reports, and there will be no redistribution of his forces, because of it. He will, however, investigate it.

The Corralitos referred to in this above dispatch is in the southwest-ern part of Chihuahua, only 25 miles west of Parral, and about the same distance from the Coahuila border. It is on the National railway of Mexico.

There is a good force of Carranza soldiers at Parral. It was here that Luis Herrera's Carranzistas attacked American forces some days ago, killing several.

WASHINGTON WAITING.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Washington settled down today to a period of waiting in the Mexican situation. Nothing additional will be done, it was stated officially, pending the return to this city of Gen. Hurlb. Scott, chief-of-staff of the army, who is to make a complete report of conditions as he found them at the border.

The only possibility of a change in the plan would be a new raid and elaborate precautions have been taken to prevent this.

In order to get first hand knowledge of any contemplated bandit action, agents of the department of justice have been massed along the border. They are working through Mexican agents, who keep them advised of all suspicious gatherings. It is realized here that the advocates of the "plan of San Diego" are again very active and it is chiefly to guard against any move by them that the department of justice has acted.

Agents Watch Leaders.

Special agents also are watching certain revolutionary leaders in San Diego, Los Angeles, New Orleans, Galveston and El Paso. Orders have been given to arrest all persons as soon as the evidence will warrant.

A complete system of cooperation with Gen. Funston commanding the troops along the border, has been arranged by orders of Atty. Gen. Gregory. All information gathered is sent in duplicate to Funston at San Antonio and to the department here.

Officials here believe that when Gen. Obregon has the opportunity personally to confer with Gen. Carranza he may be able to arrange a compromise between the two governments that will be satisfactory to all concerned. The information available here indicates that Obregon was willing to meet the views of the United States as expressed by Gen. Scott, but that he was overruled at the last moment by orders from the first chief at Mexico City.
